By BRYAN MORSE.

J. G. Holden is proving to be a life saver for the Capital City League and in putting in the Hyattsville team in place of the defunct Southland team, declared out by the board of governors of the circuit, is coming to the rescue of a league for the second time in amateur baseball history.

Manager Holden, of the newly organized Hyattsville nine, stepped into the breach some three years ago and placed a bank team in the old Bankers league, which formerly played on the White Lot, and staved off a possible blow up just as he is at present doing. Several promising players will be hooked up with Manager Holden, who asks that any players not signed regularly with teams in amateur circuits communicate with him at the American Security and Trust Company or phone 2-W, Hyattsville, Md. At present, Fitzgerald, of the Bankers; "Shags" and George Rawling, Huntermann, the M. A. C. football and baseball player and former Business High player, "Pete" Galt and one or two more have signified their intention of getting into the Capital City League games.

Perhaps the biggest game of the season, that between Cornell and the Bankers, scheduled today, will start at 4:30 o'clock. The teams are desirous of getting in a full nine inning game. Many of the Paperhangers have maintained that they do not get sufficiently warmed up before the contests and for this reason say they cannot get started.

Practically every man on the Cornell team is employed up to 4:30 in the afternoon and has to change the park, change his clothes and has but ten minutes work before the game starts. This, it is maintained, is not sufficient time to get into trim for the contest.

Printers, with Weaver in the box, handed Sperrard an unexpected snail, jumped into a tie for first place, and look exceedingly good. The race in the Central League is expected to prove even more interesting than it was in the first half of the season's games. T. M. H. A. is considerably strengthened, Northern plays good ball, while the Printers maintain they have just struck their stride. G. P. O.'s team, under Manager Pepper, is slumping a bit, owing to the fact that Frank Gochl, the star receiver, is on the injured list.

"Lefty" Holden will have to get better control if he expects to do much with Cornell Company in future games. The Lafayette pitcher is expected to prove a bit, owing to the fact that Frank Gochl, the star receiver, is on the injured list.

Anacostia will be represented by the Fairlawn team in Sunday's contest against the Mohawk aggregation, which at present is leading the Eastern League. The game will be played on the Potomac League grounds, and the collection taken will go toward paying for the new suits for the Fairlawn team.

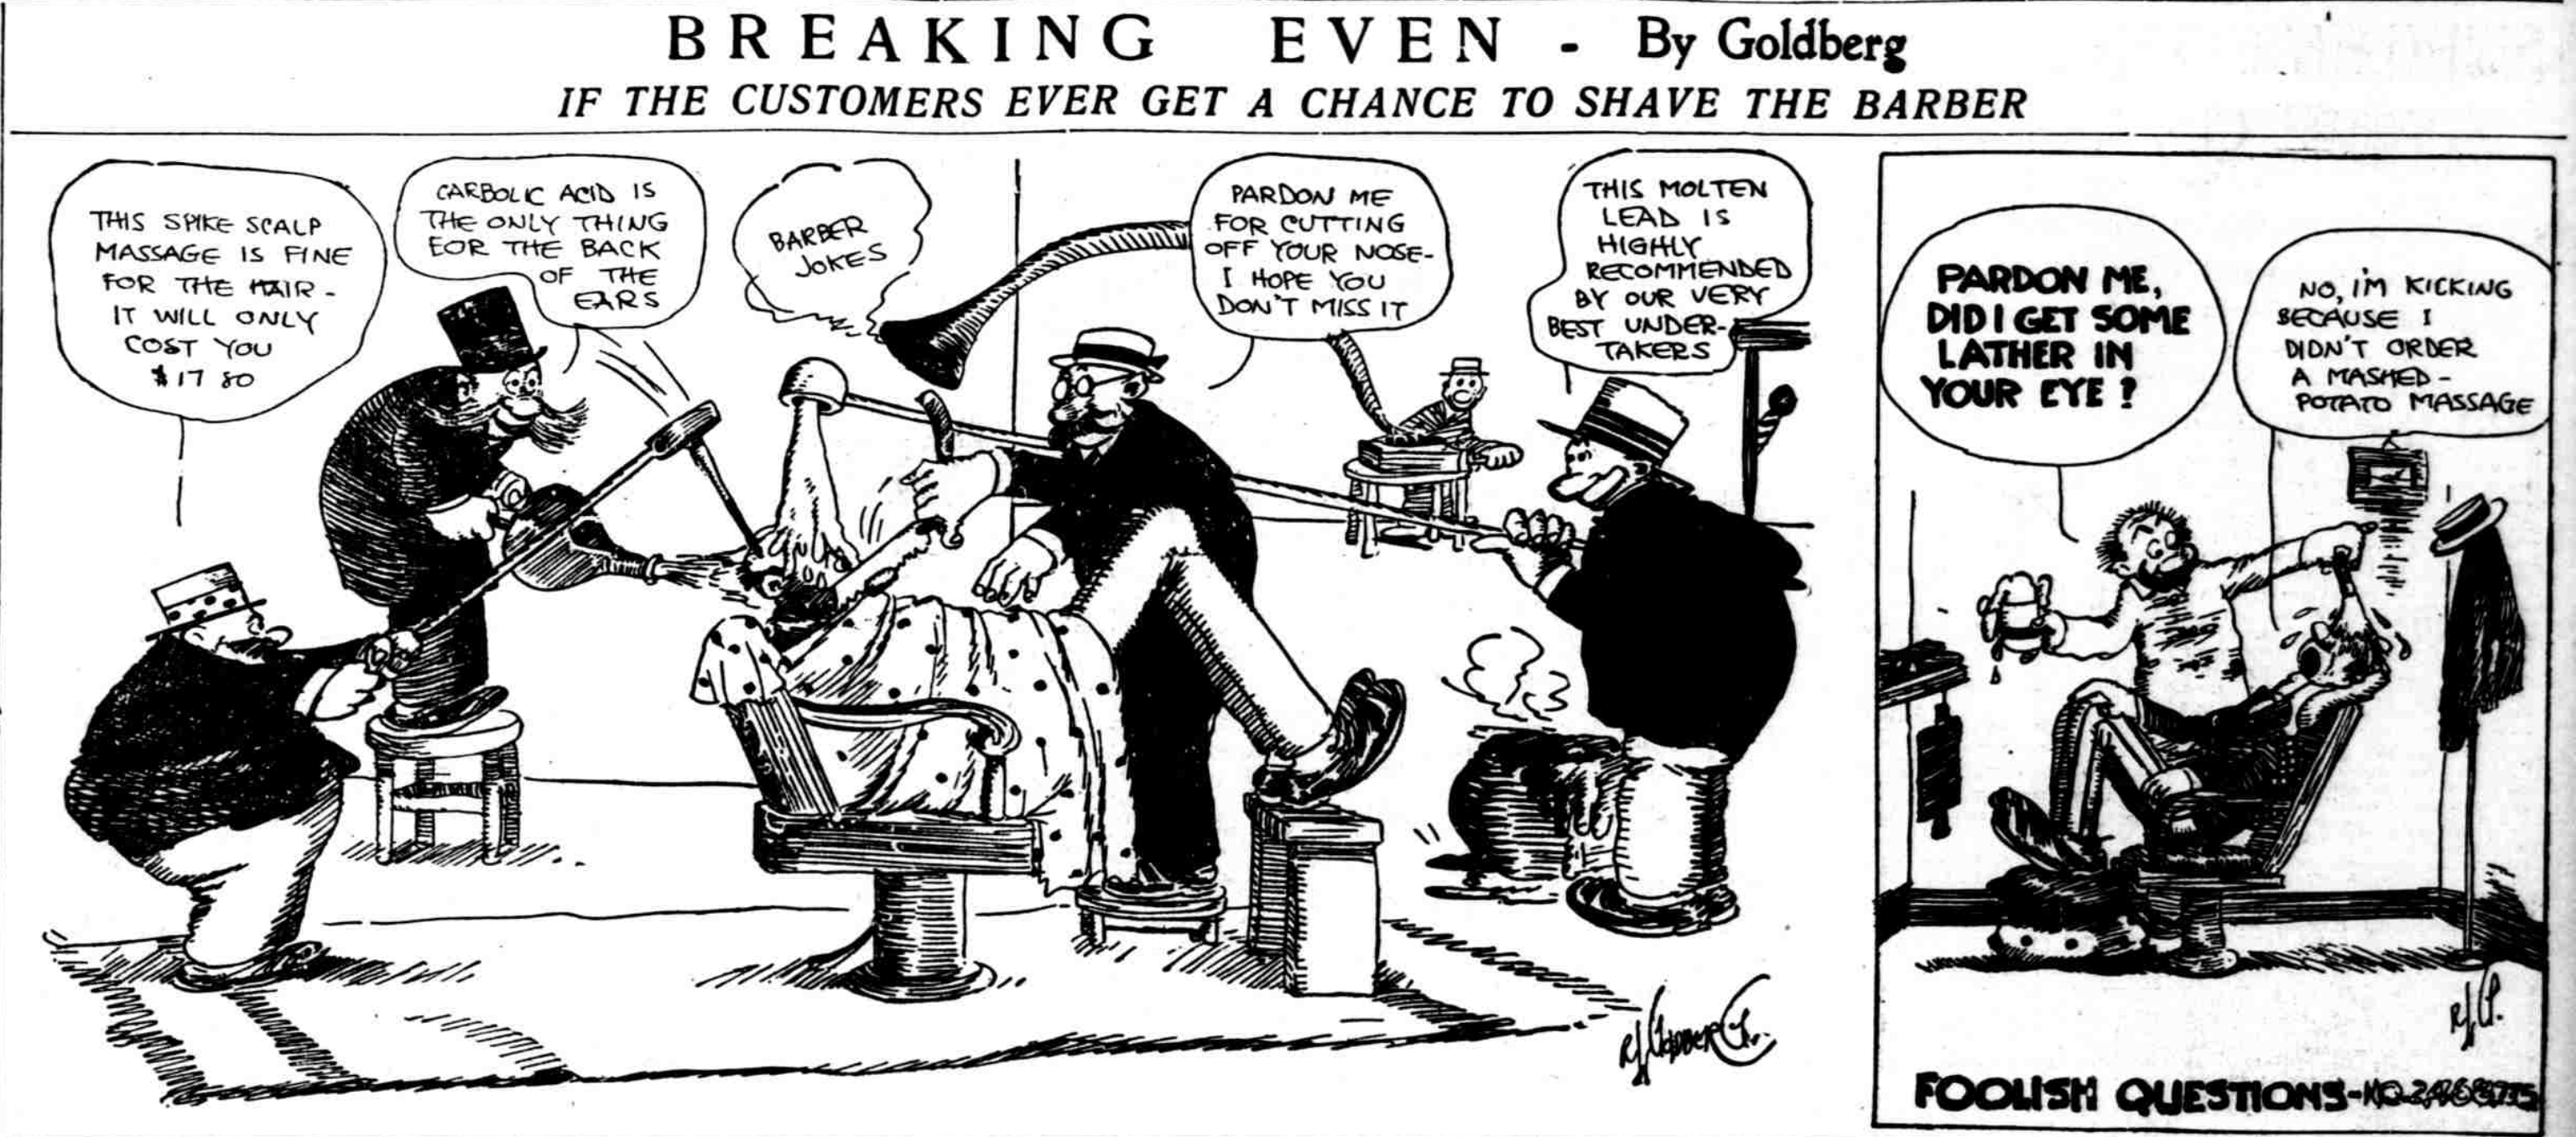

Don Johnson is elected to pitch tomorrow's game at Union League Park between the Tigers and Canaries. Johnson has been recently signed by the Cornell team, of the Capital City circuit. Von Herbold or Hasenbal will be nominated by Manager Graf, of the Canaries, to oppose Johnson.

The contest is expected to start at 2 o'clock, and Captain Jenkins has consented to handle the indicator for the teams.

Huggins Expects No Ill Effects From Injury

BOSTON, July 12.—Miller Huggins, the Cardinal manager, who was hit in the head in the game which the Boston Braves were defeated by a score of 4 to 6, is today expected to have no serious results from his collision with the ball. He will probably be out of today's game, but expects to return to his position in the line-up on Monday.

While running to first base in the sixth inning, Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis team, was hit on the left side of his head and rendered unconscious by a ball thrown by Tyle. Huggins was quickly revived and was able to walk to the plate unaided, and immediately left the game.

COTTAGE CITY MEET ATTRACTS ATHLETES

100, 220, and 880-Yard Runs Are Attracting Best Contestants of This Vicinity.

The announcement of the short distance runs to be held next Saturday at the Cottage City Carnival has met with ready response from the athletes of Washington and vicinity. The daily receipt of entries indicates that a fast field will start, and the fact that the events are to be run in the evening, instead of during the heat of the day, is helping to swell the entry list.

Events which are attracting the greatest attention of the foot racers are the 100-yard, 220-yard, and 880-yard runs. The Corby Baking Company is offering a beautiful silver loving cup which is ten inches high, for the latter event. Entry blanks may be obtained from Spaulding, at the Y. M. C. A. or from C. T. Robertson, Mt. Rainier, Md. They should be mailed, when filled out, to the latter address.

Much interest is centered around the riding tournament, which is to be started early in the evening. The best knights of Maryland, Virginia, and the District will be seen in this ancient pastime. Cottage City is just inside the District line, and is readily reached by the Hladsburg or Hyattsville and Mt. Rainier car lines.

Golf Enthusiasts to See Professionals Play

Many of Washington's most expert golfers and followers of that game will be present at the Columbia course today to see Fred McLeod and Frank Sargent, professionals at the Columbia Country and Chevy Chase Clubs, respectively, play Gilbert and Bernard Nichols, two of the leading paid exponents of the game in this country. Both McLeod and Sargent have held the national championship, the former in 1908 and the latter in 1909, and have at other times been prominent in the tournaments for this title. McLeod being runner-up on one occasion and tied for second another time. Sargent has also been the Canadian titleholder.

Gilbert Nichols, considered by many to be the longest driver of the day, has also figured prominently in the national tournaments, and while his brother has not gained such a wide reputation, he is one of the best wielders of golf paraphernalia of the present period.

May Make Old Arena Permanent Structure

RENO, Nev., July 12.—Several prominent business men of this city are investigating the practicability of erecting a large permanent light arena on the outskirts of the city, near the site made memorable by the Jeffries-Johnson affair.

The clamor here for ten-round bouts between notable fighters keeps up, and numerous letters from promoters wanting to bring topnotchers here has resulted in this consideration.

Pell Meets Nat Miles For Possession of Cup

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 12.—T. R. Pell won the singles event in the lawn tennis tournament here. In the final Pell defeated G. P. Gardner Jr., of Boston, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2. Pell, as the winner of the tournament, will meet N. W. Miles, of Boston, in the challenge match today for the Aetna Cup.

Miles won the cup twice, and a third victory will make it his personal property.

Kerr May Be Yank.

WILMINGTON, Del., July 12.—"Doc" Kerr, the manager of the Chick's backstop, may go with the New York Amer. team. Frank Chance sent a telegram to the owners of the local club today, opening negotiations and Peter Cassidy, one of the owners, replied, stating his terms.

BINGLES AND BUNTS

A Yarn of the Street.

I saw him walking the street today—An old slouch hat of a yellow gray—A home-spun suit that was this and worn With a washed out shirt—and his coat, was torn. And hanging loosely on shoulder heat. As if the most of his strength was spent. Hunting a job that he couldn't find With a rattled brain and a fagged out mind. One of the many who'd left the farm And come to town—with a kid on his arm.

Close by—worn and wonder-eyed, A faded woman stood at his side: Young in years but old in the strife Of care and worry and toil and strife: With cheeks where the roses years ago Had turned to the pale white hue of snow.

Wearily watching the human tide, Standing close by her husband's side, One of the many who'd left the farm And come to town—with a kid on his arm.

And the kid—poor bit of a devil, he Was as sound asleep as a kid could be!

The German Smear.

What with the impending German elimination from the Davis Tennis Cup, and the absence of Messrs. Wagner and Heinzelin from the battle-field, no one can well blame the genial Kaiser if he gives his mustache an extra yank in the course of twirling the same. The clouds athwart the Teutonic sky line were never heavier.

Once in a while the Athletics and Giants drop a ball game to break the grinding monotony of the other stuff. Even too much pie may begin to crab the diet and take the keen edge off the menu.

BOB THAYER'S SPORTING GOSSIP

“EVERY KNOCK IS A BOOST.”

To stop the Giants.

Just for stopping the rush of the Giants on their long string of wins the Cubs are promptly and quite effectively trounced. Twenty-two hits for a total of twenty-six is a fair day's work for any collection of athletes. Strangely enough Art Shaffer failed to get a blow out of five trips to the pan and in addition to that he went back to the bench twice with three on.

What another go!

Our eminent fellow townsman—used generally when G. Harris White, the White Sox pitcher has done something noble, had an avalanche fall on him yesterday when the Yankees cut loose. White failed utterly to deliver and so far this season has shown little to warrant his being kept on the White Sox roster. The doctor is due for a trip to the minor leagues and probably in the role of manager.

Bob Groom today.

It is about time that Bob Groom came across with another game. The tall dinker has been going none too well lately, although his first game for the trip was productive of a fair article of mound work. Groom looked to have a better chance to make good than he did last year. Some poor fielding on his own part can be attributed to his failures to a certain extent this season.

Answering a query.

Joe Boehling has worked in sixteen games this year. His last six games have been nine innings affairs, and he has not been removed since. During this time he has pitched fifty-four innings, has allowed thirty-three hits, has fanned twenty-eight batters and has been scored on but nine times. Boehling may have been a bit lucky yesterday, but lamp the figures which cannot be other than indicative of good hurling. True, he was almost in his infancy and three have walked in those six games.

Don't let that sound as if a massive ostrich egg dropped from a forty-story building bother you any unreasonable extent. It is merely the esteemed Dodgers attained midseason form.

Some Game? You Hissed It.

June 12—Manager Doolin, of the Phillies, confident of winning the pennant, says his club is the class of the circuit and will never be headed. Quaker mogul proud of the fine showing of his line-up.

July 12—“Big shake-up in Philly squad. Doolin disgusted, sends four regulars to the bench in hope of breaking long losing streak. Still hopes his club will finish as good as fourth.”

The only mistake Bill Dahlen and Charley Doolin made was in climbing so high. Otherwise the drop wouldn't have been half so boisterous nor the heart-rending splash half as loud.

And Then Again.

They may be out of the race and all that. But neither New York nor Chicago is furnishing any loud cheers over the late Pirate uprising. A club as good as that ought to be may pike along yet and help to wreck somebody's sleep even if first place is a bit beyond ultimate reach.

If some kind pal would kindly lend Fred Clarke an alarm clock he might resume where he left off in 1909. The only trouble with Pittsburgh is that it rarely begins to point in the proper direction until some other leader has begun to assert his world series pick for the opening game.

Nor is America on the verge of brooding melancholia in the thought that a Mr. A. Wilding will not be eligible to figure in any way in the Davis Cup finals. He might not beat McLoughlin again—but on the other hand—

Fowles Survives.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—W. C. Fowles, Jr., of Pittsburgh, the present title holder, L. H. Cann, of Altoona, and L. E. Satterthwaite and S. B. McFarland, of this city, are the survivors in the annual golf tournament for the amateur championship of Pennsylvania. The first two rounds of match play were held yesterday on the links of the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

CANADA WILL PLAY AGAINST U. S. TEAM

American Doubles Team to Meet Dominion Racqueters in Final Round at Wimbledon.

LONDON, July 12.—America and Canada will meet in the final round of the Davis Cup preliminaries to decide which shall challenge England for the trophy, as a result of the doubles matches in the semi-finals which were played yesterday at Nottingham and Folkestone.

At Nottingham the American doubles team, Maurice E. McLoughlin and Harold H. Hackett, defeated Friedrich Wilhelm Rahe and Heinrich Kleinschroth, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, 8-6. Having won the two singles matches yesterday, this gave the match to America. The Canadians also needed only to win the doubles for the honor of entering the challenge round, and they accomplished at Folkestone, where R. B. Powell and B. P. Schwengers, of Canada, defeated A. G. Watson and W. H. Davies, of Belgium, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

America's victory in the doubles was somewhat of a surprise, as the German pair had got as far as the challenge round in the recent All-England championship, where they gave the title holders a hard battle. With the exception of the second act, however, the Americans were in great form, and McLoughlin's fine service, backed up by Hackett's smashes at the net, proved entirely too much for their opponents to handle.

Canada and America will meet next week on the Wimbledon courts to battle for the honor of entering the challenge round, and on July 25 the matches will commence to decide the destiny of the cup for which the hardest struggles in the history of the competition have taken place in this series.

Cricket Teams Meet In Hope to Break Tie

The 1-to-1 tie that now exists between the Washington Cricket Club and the Baltimore Sons of St. George eleven will be broken tomorrow when those teams meet at Rock Creek Park at 2 o'clock.

Continuous practice has put the Washington cricketers in the best of form, and Captain Rose promises to have a stellar line-up in the field when the Baltimore eleven comes to the field. The game is expected to develop keen competition, the contesting teams being equally anxious to get the rubber game. Dr. L. B. Samuel, captain of the visiting team, would use Guthrie Windsor, an Thompson in the bowlers' crease, with Alsworth behind the stumps. Captain Rose will bowl for the locals in addition to Dr. J. S. Cameron and John J. Norton, with A. Ganneston, the Venezuelan cricketer, as a reserve bowler.

Chicago Yacht Club On Annual Cruise

CHICAGO, July 12.—Seventeen vessels were scheduled to get away late this afternoon in the Chicago Yacht Club's tenth annual long distance cruise to Mackinac Island and return, for the afternoon. The big vessels were to get away at 2:30 p. m., the sloops and small yachts following five minutes later. The first leg of the cruise will take the yachts to Milwaukee.

“Matty of the East” Pitches for Chinese

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—Foster, known as “The Mathewson of the East” will lead his teammates from the Chinese University of Hawaii against the champion Stetson A. C. hero this afternoon. The Chinese team has won more than sixty games in this country, and with Foster in the box, they are confident of annexing another. Stetson, however, will put their strongest line-up against them and are equally confident of victory.

CASSIDY RETURNS TO THE BARRIER

Will Start Horses Away in Saratoga Races, Which Occur Next Month.

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 12.—Mars Cassidy, who officiated on the Jockey Club tracks in this district prior to this season, has been appointed as starter for the meeting of the Saratoga Racing Association, which will be held during the month of August. This will give a well earned vacation to James Milton, the starter at Belmont Park since the racing season opened and who has got the fields away on even terms in nearly every race. The Saratoga officials were approved by the Jockey Club stewards at a meeting held at Belmont Park on Thursday. They are:

Judges—C. H. Postings and E. C. Smith; starter, Mars Cassidy; handicapper, W. S. Vosburgh; clerk of the scales, H. U. Homan; patrol judge, J. L. Hall; timer, W. H. Barretto. P. R. Hitchcock was appointed steward to represent the Jockey Club.

Milton will take up his duties as starter again at the Havre de Grace meeting, which will follow closely on the Saratoga fixture, while Cassidy will officiate at the Kentucky meeting. A. B. Dade will handle the flag at the Pimlico meeting in November. Officials for these meets were approved by the stewards.

Williams Will Start Toward Johnny Coulon

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—The first match of a three-cornered boxing carnival to pick a challenger for the bantamweight title will be staged in the Vernon arena on July 20. Kid Williams, of Baltimore, will meet Charlie Ledoux, the Frenchman. The winner will meet Eddie Campi in September and the victor in the last battle will be sent against Champion Johnny Coulon.

Durbinow Fails to Get to Boston Light

BOSTON, July 12.—Charles B. Durbinow, of Philadelphia, failed in his attempt to swim from Charlestown bridge to Boston light and return, a distance of twenty-four miles. The water was so rough and cold that Durbinow was forced to quit after covering a little more than half the distance to the light. He was in the water four and one-half hours.

Infield Is Patched.

BROOKLYN, July 12.—With Manager John Evers tuning his ear for possible word of suspension, there were prospects that the Cub infield would be a patchwork affair for a few days, with Evers and the two cripples, Zimmerman and Bridwell out of the game. Evers was fired from yesterday's giant battle for addressing unkind words to the umpire.

Nationals Lose.

With Harrison pitching stellar ball, the Athletics defeated the Nationals in a closely contested game by 6 to 3. Keise and Laffarow's batting was the feature.
